

Contrasting styles

The two models we have in this issue represent two very different styles. The sensual, exotic brunette is Angele Buscemi Le Brun while the green-eyed ethereal looking model is Miriam Galea. Angele is 22 years old and has been modelling for 7 years. In 2004 she contacted Franco Battaglia in Milan and was chosen to audition from among hundreds of girls. She was picked to do photo modelling and catwalk assignments with them. In November she will be in China for the Miss Model of the World competition. Miriam, 24, joined the features department at Standard Publications a few months ago where she works as a journalist. She also reads the news on Net TV, but on finding out that she has also modelled (she started four years ago), we knew she would be just right for this cover.
